STARWARD TAWNY CASK

INNOVATIVE AUSTRALIAN SINGLE MALT

Starward Tawny Cask is an innovative and unique style of whisky made at Starward Distillery in Melbourne. Starward's incredibly flavourful whisky is first matured in Australian wine casks before being finished in Tawny fortified wine casks from McLaren Vale, bringing additional depth and complexity.

NOTES OF DRIED FIGS, RAISINS AND TOFFEE

Tawny Cask jumps out of the glass with notes of dried figs, raisins and toffee, along with toasted macadamia nuts and white chocolate. On the palate there is an initial sweetness leading to brown sugar and caramelised pineapples, before finishing with a dry oak spice.

MATURED IN AUSTRALIAN TAWNY CASKS

Following the initial signature Starward maturation in Australian wine casks, the whisky is transferred to McLaren Vale Tawny barrels – a fortified wine style with rich, nutty flavours, lots of red fruit and spice, and an amber colour achieved from the wooden barrel maturation. These barrels are used to finish the Starward whisky in this bottle.

A DISTINCTLY AUSTRALIAN WHISKY

Starward was born out of a simple vision: to create a whisky that reflects Australia's unique character. All ingredients are sourced within a day's drive from the distillery; the barley comes from Victoria and South Australia and is malted in Geelong. Melbourne's notoriously variable climate also affects maturation, with temperature swings of up to 12.5°C in a day, ageing the whisky in 'Melbournian years.'

CREATED WITH INNOVATIVE PRODUCTION METHODS

Renowned for their innovation, Starward represents a new generation of whisky makers, with many of the production choices borrowed from craft brewing – brewer's yeast is used for complexity, and a darker malt is chosen to deliver more biscuity characteristics and a luscious mouthfeel.

BEST ENJOYED NEAT

Starward Tawny is best enjoyed neat or on the rocks to showcase the incredible depth of flavour in this whisky. It could also be mixed into a classic whisky-forward cocktail like an Old Fashioned.
