THOMSON TWO TONE WORLD WHISKY BLEND

70CL | 40%

EXPRESSIVE WORLD WHISKY BLEND

Thomson Two Tone Blend is a characterful expression that combines whiskies from Thomson Distillery in Riverhead, New Zealand and Scotland. These are then matured in two types of casks, refill American oak and European oak that previously held New Zealand wines. This dual-barrel approach creates a harmonious balance, resulting in a whisky that is both approachable and complex.

NOTES OF CARAMEL, SEA SALT AND CANDIED CITRUS

Thomson Two Tone Blend leaps out of the glass with notes of salted caramel, candied orange and lemon peels, summer fruits, alongside spicy ginger. On the palate, there is an abundance of stone fruits and white pepper, before finishing with a hint of dark chocolate and spicy cinnamon.

BEST SERVED NEAT

Thomson Two Tone Blend can be savoured neat, or on the rocks, to showcase the amazing versatility and finesse of the whisky. It is also just as delicious in a classic whisky and soda, or even a classic cocktail like an Old Fashioned.

MATURED IN TWO TYPES OF CASKS

Two Tone Blend Whisky stands out for its distinctive maturation process, which combines aging in American and European oak barrels. The American oak ex-bourbon barrels contribute smooth, creamy notes of vanilla and caramel, while the European oak barrels, which previously held New Zealand red wine, add depth with rich, spicy, and robust flavours.

FROM A BOUTIQUE NEW ZEALAND DISTILLERY

Founded in 2014 by Mathew and Rachael Thomson, Thomson Whisky is a boutique New Zealand distillery known for handcrafted, small-batch whiskies. Using locally sourced ingredients, the distillery produces unique expressions like Manuka Smoke Single Malt, which incorporates Manuka-smoked malt for a distinctly local character. With a focus on sustainability and craftsmanship, Thomson Whisky has earned international recognition among whisky enthusiasts.
